TAKING STOCK OF ALBERTA

There is no doubt that Alberta's fundamental position, her progress to date, and the conditions that have a bearing on her future development are such as to afford a sure basis for faith and confidence in this province and in the early realization of its vast possibilities'

It is well, however, should make periodic examinations of these various factors in order that their individual faith and confidence may be strengthened and there may be stimulated that individual and collective initiative and enterprize which are so essential to the development of a young province.

It is peculiarly fitting that such an examination should be made in this first month of the year when stock taking is the order of the day in business establishments the world over. goods upon the selves and in the storehouse are being re-valued, the records of development to date are being analyzed and estimates of probable development in the future are being made-all with a view to the adoption of such policies as will hasten that development and make it more profitable. This is equally necessary in public affairs and the purpose of this special article is to present to the people of Alberta the results of a careful stock-taking of Alberta's progress to date, present position and probable development.

MESSAGE OF THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR

Fifty years ago nothing had been done in what is now the Province of Alberta in the way of agricultural settlement The whole proceeds of acquisition and settlement of the lands with the consequent development of educational, municipal, judicial institutions has been wrought within a single time, while politically the advancement from personal rule to representative government has been made in less than oncthird of a century.

When we consider the development that took place before the war and the recovery that has been made in face of adverse world conditions since the proclamation of peace, when we count the advantages and blessings of our present conditions, when we list the resources, possibililities and opportunities our province offers. we have good reasons and positive assurances for being enthusiastically optimistic of the future.

We have a province favored by Providence and have our future in our own hands, our faith in our country is well founded and grounded. Let us go forward with courage, for if we work in unity we are bound to achieve success.

R. G. BRETT. Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta

RICH NATURAL RESOURCES BASIS OF PROSPERITY

At the very foundation of Alberta's progress and prospects must be placed the rich natural resources and favorable climatic conditions which a kind Providence has endowed this province

These are such as to have made Alberta's yield of wheat and oats higher on a ten-year average than those of any other province or state on this continet, and of a very high quality also. has won two world championships in wheat and five in oats, and at the last five international shows at Chicago 115 other prizes in these two grains'

The same natural conditions are very favorable to the raising of livestock also. During the past four years livestock from this province, competing with the world, has won 48 prizes in Chicago. 01 at Toronto, and 40 at Guelph-these including 10 championships.

Alberta has 98 per cent of all the coal in Canada, and 14 per cent of the world's supply. Her timber resources are considerable She has other substantial natural resources in tar-sands. gas. fish, and game, and there is good reason for believing that oil in commercial quantities and qualities will yet be found.

But even such an extent and variety of natural resources would be of little actual value today without reasonable prospects of rapid development. early development. Estimates of these must be based in part on the record of actual development to date.

The 19 years since Alberta became a province form a natural period for a review of provincial development. What then is the record of development during that period?

In population the increase has been four-fold.

Railway milleage has increased almost five-fold.

Area under cultivation has increased almost twenty-fold.

Wheat production is twenty-nine times greater, comparing the yield of 1905 with the average of the past five years.

In oats on the same basis of comparison, the increase has been seven-fold, the average for the past five years being 75 per cent of of phy's story. we pressed him for further details about his ven-

Livestock herds have increased, but in smaller proportion, and mary of his remarks. this province has now two of the four largest stockyards in Canada.

Creamery butter production has increased from a negligible quantity in 1905 to 21,000,000 pounds in 1924.

Poultry products have increased seven-fold until to-day Alberta has more hens per capita than any other province in Canada.

Fisheries which were of no commercial value as late as 10 years ago are now adding $400,000 annually to Alberta's production.

Coal production now exceeds that of Nova Scotia or British Columbia, being 40 per cent of the total for all Canada.

Manufacturing-practically unknown in 1915-represents to day an investment of over $55,000,000 and gives employment to over 12,000 people

Tourist Acaffic, also a negligible factor in 1905 has b stimulated by improved roads and the establishment of five national parks, and to-day brings to Alberta an annual expenditure of from time he has been raising them and the proceeds from his ven-

Summing up in terms of a single year's production, the pro ducts of agriculture and other natural resources represented in 1923, a total value of $260,000,000 to which must be added $45,000,000 for other manufactured products.

' MESSAGE OF THE PREMIER

As we pass each milestone of the passing years, partiularly years when conditions generally have been somewhat abnormal and consequently difficult, it is timely and it is a good business practice to quietly review our position-to take

We have progressed in Alberta in 1924.

Agricultural conditions in this province compare very favorably with the conditions of the industry in the other provinces of Canada and in other countries. There has been a steady, sustained improvement in agriculture in 1924, which has been reflected in the gradual betterment in general business in the West. Nothing spectacular about it, but an indication that the strain of the past few years is surely easing off, that the process of re.adjustment is going on apace, and that we may reasonably look for continued improvement, leading in due season to a return of sound normal prosperity. How soon we reach it will depend largely upon our faith in Canada and our confidence in ourselves.

It has been said with a great deal of truth that confiidence and enterprize beget prosperity.

May all Albertans by their confidence and enterprize establish their claim to it in 1925.

H. GREENFIELD

Premier of Alberta

VAST ACREAGES READY FOR SETTLEMENT

Such a record of achievement would inspire confidence in any province. It is all the more hopeful and inspiring because made by a new province using but a small portion of its natural resour

With all her development in agricultural production only 15 per cent of Alberta's arable land is under cultivation. At least 20,000,000 acres-two-thirds greater than the area now in use-is still lying idle and unoccupied within 25 miles of constructed railways. Of these half a million acres are within the boundaries of established irrigation districts requiring only the construction of of Canada' laterals to make them fully irrigated lands.

All of these factors and certain conditions that will make for more rapid development in future constitute the great strength of Alberta's present position. With an area twice that of the British Isles, Alberta has only one and a quarter per cent of the population of the United Kingdom. Within the borders of this province there could be accommodated geographically the whole of Germany or France, or nine of the most populous of the New England and Atlantic states' The frame work for a large population, engaged in a wide variety of pursuits and representing a production of high commercial value has been largely prepared. That prepartion has imposed a heavy burden upon the relatively few people who had bear it, but as the filling in will bring increased prosperity to them and good return to those who are attracted to this province in the process.

MESSAGE OF THE MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE

No service more valuable could be performed by the press of Alberta for the people of the province than to review for them in this concise form the progress that has been made since the province was organized, and to set forth the great natural wealth with which Alberta is endowed. It is most desirable that from time to time we renew our faith and confidence in this country by taking full stock of what we are.

and of what we have. We are destined for great things here in Alberta' We can realize this destiny only by retaining our faith, and by uniting our efforts towards the one end of the upbuilding of a prosperous and happy citienship.

GEORGE HOADLEY.

Minister of Agriculture for Alberta

FACTORS THAT ASSURE RAPID DEVELOPMENT

There is sure ground for believing that Alberta's development in the near future will be even more rapid and more prosperous than heretofore

No other province stands to gain quite as much from the more aggresive immigation and coloniation policy which is almost certain to be adopted in the near future by the flederal government. Regular classes in these institutions have been supplemented Alberta has a larger proportion of unoccupied arable land than any vince that immigration and colonization efforts would be directed.

Outside capital also will come into Alberta in increasing measure. Her record of achievement to date and her rich natural resources will arouse a wide spread interest in the pissibilities for investment within her borders

A general reconstruction of freight rates cannot be delayed auch longer and this wil mean much to Alberta. Heretofore this rovince has been at the very peak of the freight rate structure ashioned on the orginal idea that all exports and imports must trarel via the long route to and from the east. Following the opening U.F.A. will be held Wednesday he opening of the Pacific-Panama route there is in progress of de January 28th. Visitors are most elopment in transportation a Pacific watershed as well as one trinatary to the Atlantic. When this is given full effect in freight schedules Alberta will realize the advantage of her geographical position close to the Pacific ocean and to a water route to Europe. This will mean lower freight rates to Alberta farmers on all they sell for export and lower cost of all in Alberta on what is brought in from other provinces and countries for consumption here.

Extension of trade with the Orient will hasten Alberta's development. Already new markets are being found there for wheat, flour, livestock, butter and cheese produced in this province. These markets are certain to be extended. Babson, the noted economist, says that the great trade of the future will be with" the Orient. Alberta, as the most westerly of Canada's prairie provinces, is in a very favorable position for supplying the Orient's requirements in agricultural products.

National considerations will bring about in the not far distant future the use of Alberta's coal in Ontario and this will give a great impetus to the coal industry of this province.

Within the province itself several conditions are working in the same general direction'. Alberta has today the accumulated knowledge of three decades of experiment with soil and climatic conditions in this province and many of the mistakes common to new countries can now be avoided. Blends off seed and strains of stock particularly fitted to local conditions have been produced. There is a steadily increasing tendency towards mixed farming which, in addition to lessening the risk to the individual farmer, will make for intensive settlement, permanent buildings, and more generally better living conditions. Co-operative marketing is yet another factor already introduced in this province that will tend to make agriculture more profitable and more attractive.

Gradually, but none the less surely, there will come a vast development in manufacturing in Alberta. The province has great manufacturing potentialities in its coal, natural gas and water power and it may be reasonably hoped in oil also. An emnent engineer has made the statement that Alberta's coal deposits alone are sufficient to insure that this province will be ultimately the work-shop

MESSAGE OF DIRECTOR OF DEBT ADJUSTMENT

In taking stock of Alberta it is necessary to remember that the province covers a considerable amount of territory and that in no year, since the country was settled, has it been possible to say that conditions have generally been the same throughou t the whole province.

Generally speaking, however, decided progress has been made and there is every reason to expect steady improvment in the future. The better prices prevailing for all grains, the steadier market for livestock. with improved prospects in sight for that important industry and the tendency towards more intensive farming must have its effects upon all lines of business.

The efforts being made to arrive at the solution of some of the more perplexing questions, such as the settlement of the semi-arid districts, improved transportation and better facilities for the marketing of our products, are important and must make for improved conditions'

LARGE PART IN DEVELOPMENT

A tour through the agricultural departments of the University of Alberta reveals active investigation in animal feeding and diseases, efforts to develope new varieities of plants and to solve the problem of plant hardiness. A soil survey of the province is in progress, and experiments looking to the control of economic pests are under way.

In co-operation with the Alberta Research council interesting tests of house-heaters are being conducted, and a chemical survey of our coals is bringing to light new data of great significance to this basic industry. 1925 will probably see the completion of investigation of the application of oils to our surface soils with a view to the construction of a cheap and serviceable roadway. A field examination of the Me-Murray tar-sand area was carried out last summer, and reliable information is now available touching mining problems confronting industrial concerns planning developments of this great natural resource.

MANAGERS OF STOCKYARDS SEE MARKETS OPENING FOR ALBERTA

The outlook for the livestock industry to us has always been bright in Alberta and our faith in this particular industry has induced our company, for the past few years to adopt a policy of expansion in order to meet the adequate developments which are sure to come. Interest in the livestock trade, both in the Unted States and European countries, especially in the British Isles, have for some time realized the value of the Alberta steer

With the largest production of grain per acre and the best quality at the lowest cost, together with the ideal climate for feeding and finishing steers, a big company has been recently organized to finish and fatten Alberta cattle for the best markets in the world. This will give the Alberta producer additional markets.

> J. L. JUHLIN, Managing Director of the Edmonton Stockyards

In 1923 Canada sold approximately five hundred million dollars worth of livtstock products. During 1924 value on all classes of livestock have shown slight improvement with sheep values decidedly improved. Generally the livestock situation in the past twelve months shows measurable improvment compared with the previous year.

As to the future, we hope and expect that values will advance sufficiently to overcome the much higher product'or. costs due to increased grain prices. Almost unprecendented and continued cold and deep snow have necessitated generous feeding of expensive feeds to all classes of breeding stock. History indicates that higher livestock values follow high grain prices, therefore there should be material improvement in 1925

Manager and Secretary of the Alberta Stockyards, Calgary

PRESIDENT OF MORTGAGE LOANS ASSOCIATION SAYS

The crop returns during the past two years and the satisfactory prices are now being obtained for nearly all farm products confirm the opinion that a first mortgage on an Albeerta farm property is an attractive investment, providing legislative interference with its standing be removed.

should therefore be the aim of all farmers' organizations to see that the standing of a first mortgage be re-established in order that the credit of the farmer be improved' W' T' CREIGHTON,

CONFIDENCE AND UNITED ACTION NECESSARY

But back of all these various factors there are three others that are requisite to the adequate development of this province. These are;

- 1. An intelligent, well-founded confidence of all the people of Alberta in this province, and in its future
  - 2. A definite soundly based program of development.
- 3. A shoulder to shoulder movement of all the people in pro moting Alberta's development.

With these three last mentioned factors in full force and operation in conjunction with her great natural advantages, there is no doubt whatever that Alberta will move forward with increased rapidity to the attainment of the great destiny for which Providence has so evidently prepared this province.

This special article is published by this newspaper as part of a united effort of the Alberta Press Association to place before the people of Alberta the strong fundamental position of this province, her progress to date, and her probable development.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Very late in the Old Year, or very early in the New Year most people take out a cheque book and spend a few somewhat unpleasant minutes or hours in paying accounts that have run on.

I call the task unpleasant because few people like to pay up. Certainly, in many ways, "it is more blessed to give than to receive" but most people would rather receive cheques than pay them. Nevertheless, when we have spent this bad half hour with our Cheque-book we feel easier in our mind; more at peace with the world; better able to "look the world in the face." In short, settling up seems to contribute to settling down.

It always does. That is why justice is the only way to peace. That is why it is a greater disaster to a man to be unwilling to pay his own debts than to have someone unwilling to pay him. The h ter means only a loss of money; the other means a flaw in one's moral make-up, a loss of self-reverence_of proper pride.

The fact is that it is an eternal law_from which there is no escape_and that we must settle up before we settle down. It is said that it is unfair that we should pay our debts when others shirk paying debts which are just as fairly due to us. Did it ever strike you that other people's slackness, whether in debt-paying or anything elce. is no excuse for ours? The only thing that really matters is that we, whether as a nation or as individuals, should do the right

There can be no stablity, no security, apart from absolute justice and fair dealing. It is the first essential of human intercourse, and it is well to get that idea firmly fixed in the national and international mode of thinking. Plain speaking, plain dealing plain morals, plain truth-these are things upon which world understanding must rest. Chicanery, blindman's bluff, hide-and-seek_ the sort of thing we call "Jiggory-pokery," may serve to gain a momentary victory, a brief triumph, but so will the sleight of hand

Believe me, there are a lot of debts we owe beside those that can be paid with a cheque or note. It is our duty to settle up. For instance, what a lot we owe to our district. We take all the advantages which community life is able to give, and never think that a higher sense of citizenship might lead to better conditions, to a fuller life for everybody. We are often content to lct the willing worse work, while we stand by and watch him doing it.

Ah, we are all debtors_to the State, to the community in which we dwell, to our neighbours, and to the members of our own household and it is absolutely essential that we should settle up before we can really hope to settle down. Shakespeare said a big thing when he said; "Be just, and fear not. Let all the ends thou aim'st at be thy country's, thy God's. and truth's." That covers the ground. Settle up those debts, and there will soon be a general settling down, and a return to peace and prosperity.

OUR SHORT SERMON By the Editor

"Whatsoever ve would that men should do unto you, do ye so unto them, for this is the the law and the prophets

"The conviction that Christianity is a failure is common to a great many thinkers who haven't ried it," writes a modern newspaper man. His observation is correct. The real test of Christianity is to found in "trying it." Christianity is infinitely more than a prohibitory code of conduct condemning what is wrong-it is "positive," not "negative." Not only does Christianityy teach what is right, but it fills its tarnest follower with the dynamic power of love-a power which must find expression in doing good to other men-reflecting in thest acts the Infinite Goodness off the Source of Love, God.

This is the point at which Christianity stands forth over all other religions of the world. All religions have an uplifting power, though the measure of that power varies through all the gradations of human thought from primitive fear and superstition upwards to the highest ideals of conduct-of which the above quotation stands pre-eminent as the "Golden Rule of Humanity.'

Confucius, some 550 years before Christ, summarized his teaching as to the rule of human conduct in these words: "What ye would not that men should do unto you, do ye not unto them" Here we have a remarkably high rule, which if observed generally, would greatly improve the condition of human society' It is a rule that bears striking resemblance to the command of Christ. At the same time we may observe that the rule of Confucius is "negative and passive.," while the rule of Christ is "positive and active"

Confucius may be pictured as a man, possessing a rich plot of land, concentrating his efforts entirely upon the removal of weeds-the weeds of evil and evil doing-and there resting his labors. Christ may be pictured as a man, having a similar rich plot of land, goes on to plant the same with the flowers and fruits of well-doing until it blossoms forth with the rich beauties of a prolific orchard and the glorious flowers of a magnificient garden.

Many Christians have gotten no farther than the splendid teachings of Confueius in this matter, they are seeking to see that every jot and tittle of a modern Mosaic law is enforced and observed. The span of human life is too short to be spent entirely in eliminating evil (humanly speaking it is immpossible). Far greater good may be accomplished by turning from the "negative" and "passive" side to the "positive" and "active" side. This is done by sade to the positive and active side. This is also speatifying life with those spontaneous acts of helpfulness and unselfishness, which Christ calls "the law and the prophets," voz: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them."
